Twenty-ninth Sunday in Ordinary Time –October 22, 2017 "Repay to Caesar what belongs to Caesar, and to God what belongs to God." — Matthew 22:21

POWER STRUGGLE

Power struggles occur on every level of society, from the world stage to relationships at work, to our own homes. We struggle for position in the hierarchy of power: Who has power over whom? How do they wield it? What is the source of that power? What is the healthy response?

In this Sunday's Gospel reading the Pharisees engage Jesus in a power struggle over whether Jews should show tribute to Caesar by paying taxes. Jesus' response puts this and every struggle for power into perspective. In harmony with the words of Isaiah and Paul, Jesus teaches us that God is the ultimate source of all power-the power of earthly rulers, the Pharisees, Jesus, the Church, and the power within ourselves.

TODAY'S READINGS

First Reading – The LORD said to Cyrus, his anointed, "I am the LORD, there is no other" (Isaiah 45:1, 4-6). Psalm – Give the Lord glory and honor (Psalm 96). Second Reading – Paul, Silvanus, and Timothy to the church of the Thessalonians: We thank God always for all of you (1 Thessalonians 1:1-5b). Gospel - Give to Caesar what is Caesar's, and to God what is God's (Matthew 22:15-21).

TREASURES FROM OUR TRADITION

What makes the Eucharistic Prayers for Masses with Children different from the others? First, there is the intended assembly, which is described as comprised of mostly children of school age. There are three Eucharistic Prayers for Masses with Children available to us now in the missal. The first one has a very simple form, easily grasped by even a young child. The second has a great deal of participation by the assembly-repeated sung acclamations. The third has a number of variations that can be tricky for a priest to handle if he hasn't prepared carefully.

All of this work does point to a true treasure of our tradition: children are part of the Sunday assembly, precisely because they are baptized members of Christ's body. By contrast, the churches of the Reformation tend to look upon children as members in training, and see worship as an adult activity. Sunday school happens downstairs while the adults celebrate Holy Communion upstairs. In a phrase, that's not Catholic. Children belong to Christ and to the assembly. So, the desire to care for the children in the assembly, to draw them into the prayer, and to adapt our rituals and texts to their needs is deeply Catholic, a true pastoral effort to help draw everyone into the praise of God. -Rev. James Field, Copyright © J. S. Paluch Co.

At the center of our being is a point of nothingness that is untouched by sin and by illusion, a point of pure truth, a point or spark which belongs entirely to God, which is never at our disposal, from which God disposes of our lives, which is inaccessible to the fantasies of our mind or the brutalities of our own will. This little point of nothingness and of absolute poverty is the pure Glory of God in us. It is so to speak His name written in us, as our poverty, as our indigence, as our dependence, as our sonship. It is like a pure diamond, blazing with the invisible light of heaven. It is in everybody, and if we could see it, we would see these billions of points of light coming together in the face and blaze of a sun that would make all the darkness and cruelty of life vanish completely....I have no program for this seeing. It is only given. But the gate of heaven is everywhere. - Thomas Merton, "Conjectures of a Guilty Bystander"

We Remember: St. POPE JOHN PAUL II (1920-2005), the first Polish pope and the most widely traveled in the history of the papacy. Karol Jozef Wojtyal was born in Wadowice, Poland, the youngest child of a schoolteacher and a retired army officer. He was an active young man, an athlete and an outdoorsman, whose passions were poetry, philosophy, and the theater. Much of his advanced education was obtained underground after the Nazi invasion of Poland in 1939. He was ordained a priest in 1946, a bishop in 1958, and appointed archishop of Krakow in 1964.

He was elevated to the College of Cardinals in 1967, at 47 its youngest member. When Cardinal Wojtyla was elected the 264th successor of Peter in 1978, he became the youngest pope since Pius IX a hundred years before, the first Polish pope, and the first non-Italian pope since Adrian IV in the 16th century. John Paul circled the globe, logging over a million miles and visiting every continent except Antarctica. He opened dialogues with Protestant denominations; made a pilgrimage to Auschwitz; and visited a Jewish synagogue and a Muslim mosque. He made pilgrimages to Orthodox countries where no pope had ever before set foot. On May 13, 1981, was shot twice at close range while riding in an open automobile in St. Peter's Square at the Vatican. Two other persons also were wounded. An escaped terrorist, Mehmet Ali Agca, was arrested and convicted July 22, 1981. After convalescence, Pope John Paul II was pronounced recovered by his doctors Aug. 14, 1981. He forgave Mehmet, meeting with him in jail. His legacy to the Church includes more than a dozen encyclicals, as well as scores of apostolic letters, constitutions and exhortations. He beatified and canonized more than 1000 men and women from all walks of life and greeted hundreds of millions of the faithful through his travels and papal audiences. He was tireless in his work for the poor and powerless, speaking out against war, economic injustice, political oppression, and what he called the industrialized world's "culture of death." Pope John Paul II's ultimate homily was probably his own life a life characterized by a charismatic, heartfelt prayer, moral vision, global evangelism, tireless advocacy for human dignity and political and religious freedom, and unshakable faith. He was canonized, with Pope John XXIII, on April 27, 2014. #ST. PHILIP was a bishop of Heraclea near Constantinople; Severus was his deacon; Eusebius and Hermes, two of his clergy. During the persecution of Diocletian, they were all arrested and brought to trial. It was demanded that they should deliver up the sacred books of the church to be burnt. On their refusal, they were taken to Adrianopolis and burnt at the stake (304). There exists a copy of the legal process instituted against them, a document of undeniable authenticity. + Fifty years ago today, in 1967, the Canon of the Mass (the Eucharistic Prayer) was said in English for the first time. It had been said only in Latin for 1400 years.

+ We Remember: People in the United States know that each year, the swallows return to San Juan Capistrano, a mission in California. But who was the man for whom the mission is named? St. John (1386-1456) was born in Capistrano, Italy, and began life as a lawyer, married (but was widowed at age 30), and became governor of Perugia in the Papal States in 1412. Taken prisoner when his province was conquered, John had a vision in which St. Francis of Assisi invited him to enter the Franciscan Order, which he did in 1418, becoming a life-long friend of St. Bernardine of Siena. His whole religious life was spent as a papal legate to various states, including Sicily, Palestine, Milan, France, Austria, Bavaria, Poland, Bohemia and Silesia. He is most remembered for his work in Bohemia, and for the part he played inspiring the heroic resistance of the Hungarians to the Turks, who had conquered Constantinople, attacked the fortress at Belgrade (in 1456), and threatened Europe with onslaught. We Remember: "When I am before the Blessed Sacrament I feel such a lively faith that I cannot describe it. Christ in the Eucharist is almost tangible to me. To kiss his wounds continually and embrace him. When it is time for me to leave I have to tear myself away from his sacred presence," said St. Anthony Mary Claret (1807-1870). Today's saint started life as a weaver, but entered the priesthood in 1835 and devoted himself to missionary work among the people, helped by a group of priests, whom he formed into the institute of the Missionary Sons of the Immaculate Heart of Mary - today called the Claretians. Anthony was ordained bishop of Santiago de Cuba, and in 1856 was made confessor to Queen Isabella II and was exiled with her in 1868. Both in Cuba and in Spain he encountered the hostility of the Spanish anti-clerical politicians. He had the gifts of prophecy and miracles. Canonized in 1950. The Claretians today are devoted to missionary, parochial, educational and retreat work. They are the publishers of U.S. Catholic magazine, headquartered in Chicago. + In 1846, St. Vincent Archabbbey, the first Benedictine House in the U.S., opened in Latrobe, Pa. Eighteen men were invested in the religious habit. The Archabbey was begun by monks from Bavaria, Germany. (W)

We Remember: St. Gaudentius (c.410) was a monk at Caesarea in Cappadoci. Gaudentius was recalled to Brescia to succeed St. Philastrius as bishop and was ordained by St. Ambrose (c.387). In 405 he was sent to the East to defend the cause of St. John Chrysostom and was imprisoned near Thrace; he died shortly thereafter. (B,L)

We Remember: St. Evaristus (c.109). Nothing is certain about this very early pope, traditionally of Hellenic-Jewish background. Honored as a martyr, Evaristus followed St. Pope Clement I, serving the Church from c. 100-109. (B) + In 1645, of the deaths of Archbishop Malachy O'Queely, Fr. Tadgh O'Connell, OSA, and Fr. Augustine O'Higgin, OSA, near Sligo in Ireland. Archbishop O'Queely was the head of the Archdiocese of Tuam. The two priests were Augustinians, with Fr. O'Connell serving as secretary to the archbishop. All three men murdered by Parliamentarian troops under Oliver Cromwell's persecution of the Irish Church. (W) \bullet In 1987, Pope John Paul II hosted a gathering of world religious figures in Assisi, Italy.

★ We Remember: St. Frumentius (c. 380) was a native of Tyre, who in the course of a voyage on the Red Sea, was wrecked on the Ethiopian coast with his brother - St. Aedesius. Everyone on the ship was killed by natives except the brothers, who were taken to the king's palace at Axum, where they were made members of the court, attaining high offices. Frumentius went to Alexandria to ask St.Athanasius to send a missionary to the country he had just left; Athanasius consecrated Frumentius bishop of the Ethiopians and sent him back. Frumentius and Aedesius preached the gospel with great success and are for this reason venerated as the apostles of Ethiopia. Frumentius was called ABUNA (our father) in Ethiopia and to this day, the Ethiopian primate's title is Abuna. We Remember: St. Simon and St. Jude, Apostles. In the gospels, St. Simon is surnamed "the Cananean," or "the Zealot". His name occurs only in the lists of the apostles. The tradition of the West places the scene of his labors in Egypt and Mesopotamia, but there are several other different traditions among the Christians of the East, and nothing positive can be stated about his life and activities. St. Jude, also known as Jude Thaddeus, was the brother of St. James the Less and therefore related by blood to our Lord. He is the author of a letter in the Bible in which he warns the Christian converts against false teaching and immorality. According to St. Fortunatus, bishop of Poitier in the sixth century, these two apostles preached in Mesopotamia, and afterwards, were martyred in Persia. The relevance of this feast for us hinges primarily on St. Jude Thaddeus, "patron of impossible cases." Moreover, the significance of these two apostles can be gleaned from the First Reading for the Mass: "You are strangers and aliens no longer. No, you are fellow citizens of the saints and members of the household of God" (Ep 2:19). (S,B) • In 1466, the birth of Desiderius Erasmus, Dutch scholar and author born at Rotterdam, best known for Encomium Moriae (In Praise of Folly); he died at Basel, Switzerland, July 12, 1536. • Today in 1958, Angelo Giuseppe Cardinal Roncalli was elected Pope John XXIII - "Good Pope John.
